Privacy and Cookies Policy

1. Introduction to the website of 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS gallery Srl

Introduction to the website of 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS Srl (hereinafter, "the gallery").

This Privacy Policy (hereinafter, the "Privacy Policy") applies to data of each user (hereinafter, the "User") which the gallery processes after a User logs in to access the various sections of this website (hereinafter, the "Website").

The privacy notice is provided exclusively for the Website and is not applicable to any different sites to which the User may be redirected by links inside the Website, which redirect to portals and computer systems managed by third parties whose ownership, methods and purposes the gallery is not party to.

The Privacy Policy is regulated by Italian law and by EU Regulation 2016/679 (GDPR) which regulates the processing of personal data (hereinafter, the "Data") by any person resident or based in the European Union, and guarantees that the relevant data processing operations are conducted in observance of the fundamental rights and freedoms and dignity of the Data Subject, particularly in relation to the rights of confidentiality, personal identity and data protection.

The Privacy Policy may be modified or simply updated, in whole or in part, to bring it into line with any legislative changes; amendments and updates to the Privacy Policy will be binding once they have been published on the Website.

2. Data Controller, External Data Processors and Data Processors

The Data Controller is 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS Srl, registered office in 20123 Milan, Via San Vittore 13, VAT No. 09598590967.

The gallery independently determines the purposes and methods of the data processing operations, and also the data security procedures to be applied in order to guarantee the confidentiality, integrity and availability of Data.

The complete and updated list of Data Processors may be consulted by contacting the gallery.

The following email address is available for any further information staff@29artsinprogress.com.

3. Persons/entities that can process the User's Data

To process the User's Data, the gallery avails of third parties who are carefully selected, are trustworthy and reliable and have adequate experience and expertise for the assignment, and they are able to guarantee full compliance with applicable regulatory provisions on the processing of personal data, including provisions on personal data security. These third parties have been carefully selected and appointed based on the nature of the tasks that the gallery assigns to them, and they act under the control of 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS gallery and in accordance with the latter's instructions.

4. Purposes of the data processing

Navigation inside the Website is free and requires no special access or authentication credentials.

The gallery may request the User to insert his/her Data (for purposes of illustration: personal particulars and e-mail address) in the special registration field, to facilitate the provision of specific services (hereinafter, the "Services"), such as:

- the periodic transmission of newsletters containing news about gallery's activities, such as e.g. scheduled events at 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS gallery space, cultural and artistic events, gallery's participation at trade fairs, special initiatives for customers, promotion of works of art and related artists (hereinafter, "Newsletter").

The gallery provides a full privacy notice at the registration stage, which the User must accept in order to be able to access the aforementioned Services.

5. Data processing methods and duration of the Data Processing

Data will not be communicated to third parties unless such communication is required by law, or is necessary in order to achieve legally sanctioned purposes for which the Data Subject's consent is not required.

The duration of the data processing is indicated in the privacy notice for the processing of Data, in each individual section thereof.

6. Data security

29 ARTS IN PROGRESS gallery puts in place adequate data security measures pursuant to EU Regulation 2016/679 in order to prevent the loss or unlawful or incorrect use of Data, as well as unauthorised access thereto.

The gallery reserves the right to delete any accounts and all associated Data if they are found to contain material that is unlawful, detrimental to the image of the gallery and/or of its services or of third parties, or that is considered offensive or promotes illegal or defamatory activities, or that has pornographic content, incites violence or promotes discrimination on grounds of race, gender, religion and sexual orientation.

7. The User's rights

The User will, at any time and without charge, be entitled to access his/her own Data, to receive his/her own electronic Data and transmit such Data to another data controller ("data portability"), and also to have Data corrected, updated, modified or erased (subject to any legally applicable exemptions). The User will be entitled to update data which he/she supplies to the gallery by contacting the latter at the address provided below.

Requests for the erasure of data are regulated by applicable legal obligations including data/document retention obligations to which 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS gallery is subject.

The User will be entitled to contact the Italian Data Protection Authority if he/she considers that the procedures for managing his/her Data are problematic or questionable.

In order to exercise these rights, the User may send a request to the gallery by email to staff@29artsinprogress.com or send a letter by ordinary post to the following address: Via San Vittore 13, Milan. When contacting the gallery, the User should include his/her name, e-mail address, postal address and/or telephone number(s) in order to facilitate the gallery in properly managing your request.

The User may access and amend his/her Data by contacting 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS gallery at the addresses indicated above, in order to receive support in such updating operations.

If a User, who has previously authorised the processing of his/her Data in order to facilitate the transmission of Newsletters, wishes to revoke his/her consent or to manage his/her preferences, he/she can transmit a simple request to 29 ARTS IN PROGRESS gallery to this effect, as indicated above.
